Time and Attendance User Conference Prepares for Take Off

AUSTIN, TX – July 28, 2010 – After another successful conference in 2009, Legiant is proud to announce the 2010 Legiant User Conference will be held at the Hyatt Regency Hotel in downtown Austin. For several years, Legiant has provided its customers, prospective customers, and partners with a unique two-day event that highlights best practices, tips and future enhancements for Legiant Timecard. Legiant Timecard is a time and attendance system designed to rapidly improve workforce productivity.

“We are very excited about the user conference this year,” said Christie Hays, Legiant User’s Group Manager. “We have some wonderful speakers lined up, new classes for our advanced users, and great news on our future product enhancements. Of course, we also provide direct access to our senior management team, which truly makes the Legiant User Conference unique.”

The Legiant User Conference offers several main sessions in addition to smaller, breakout sessions focused on specific topics related to HR and IT. Attendees are encouraged to bring their laptops as they will be able to practice new techniques with the Legiant Timecard system during these sessions. Additionally, the conference should qualify for RCH (Re-Certification Hours) credits once the agenda is approved by the American Payroll Association.

The 2010 Legiant User Conference will take place on Thursday, September 23rd and Friday, September 24th in Austin, Texas. The user conference brochure and registration information can be found at http://www.legiant.com/support/usersgroup/Legiant_Users_Conference_Packet.pdf.
