

ELM and Legiant Form Relationship to Deliver Optimal Workforce Management Solution for Long-Term Care

Legiant is a leader in web-based time and attendance solutions technology to over 1.75 million people in 7000 organizations worldwide.

HOUSTON, Texas, March 25th, 2008- ELM Technologies, Inc. OTC-ETGS (PinkSheets) and Legiant have formed a relationship to jointly market each others products to long-term care providers. The combined solution has proven to significantly reduce labor costs by removing the inherent inefficiencies associated with the scheduling and time management of hourly employees.

“Partnering with ELM Technologies is a natural fit for Legiant,” stated Rod Crane, CTO of Legiant. “Both organizations are committed to increasing manager visibility to critical workforce data, improving employee self-service features, and utilizing SaaS (Software as a Service).”

The ELM and Legiant relationship brings together the innovative leaders in workforce modeling scheduling and time management solutions for long-term care providers.

"ELM is very excited about partnering with a unique and proven product such as the Legiant Time and Attendance system," stated Barbara Rivera, President of ELM Technologies. Barbara added "The combination of our product suites provides positive benefits for long-term care by reducing both overtime and over scheduling. LTC facilities now have a powerful end-to-end method to improve their workforce management, from planning through use to payment."
