Legiant Time and Attendance Customers Enjoy User Conference

AUSTIN, TX – October 27, 2008 – Legiant, a leading provider of time and attendance software for small-to-midsize businesses, announced the success of its 2008 user conference held earlier this month in Austin, Texas. During the two-day event, Legiant users from the United States and Canada shared experiences and strategies; learned about the future of Legiant Timecard from the product development team; and discussed the benefits of the latest time and attendance technologies.

The primary goal of the Legiant User Conference was to provide users with a friendly and personal environment in which they could learn from and ask questions of development and support team members. Specific break-out sessions were developed for administrators and IT professionals to ensure relevant topics and smaller classroom settings would be available. Additionally, attendees were invited to a dinner in downtown Austin hosted by Legiant and a tour of Austin's famous 6th street.

Attendee Comments:

“Thanks to everyone at Legiant for your hospitality and the wonderful conference. You bent over backwards to make us feel welcome, gave us food, shared your knowledge and let us enjoy the great city of Austin!” – Diane, Payroll Manager

“I found the conference to be very well organized, professional and informative. I was especially happy to have such easy access to those in the know from Legiant. Legiant impresses me as a wonderful company with which to do business. I believe that Legiant is a great working match for our company.” – Steve, Corporate Payroll and Benefits Manager

“I just wanted to again say what a good job Legiant did during the first user conference that just wrapped up in Austin. It was very informative, and I am looking forward to attending again next year. The discussion was great, and meeting the staff was very helpful.” – Dustin, Human Resources

“I thought you guys did a great job at this conference. You took really good care of us before, during, and after. I have already sent an email to our Fort Worth office to let them know that they really missed out and need to attend next year’s conference. Your offices are beautiful. The hotels were wonderful. The company you guys provided was a lot of fun. I am really glad I got to attend.” – Angie, Human Resources
